OUR STORY

WE'RE LOIS & SARAH, THE MOTHER-DAUGHTER DUO AT WEST MEADOW FARM BAKERY.

We were both diagnosed with celiac disease over 20-years ago. We quickly discovered how challenging it was to find tasty food you can eat in a world full of gluten, so we decided to create our own.

After three years of trial-and-error, Lois opened up our home kitchen to bake gluten-free for others in 2003. Hearing customers say that "you'd never know this was gluten-free," we moved into our first commercial space in 2009. Ten years later, we opened our current bakery at 4 Carmichael Street in Essex Junction, Vermont. You'll find us most days behind the counter, baking, refining new recipes, and finding new ways to help others live healthy, gluten-free lives.
